

Aimsio opens 2018 with three new clients

The Calgary software startup looks ahead to an exciting year and expects to grow in 2018

CALGARY (January 12, 2018) - Aimsio, a software company headquartered in Calgary with a second office in Vancouver, has announced the addition of three new clients in 2018. Axion Specialty Contracting, Earth Pipeline Services, and Lineriders have all signed on to use Aimsio as their field operations management software.

Axion Specialty Contracting and Earth Pipeline Services are based out of Massachusetts and Pennsylvania, respectively, while Lineriders is an Alberta-based company. “The Aimsio platform is very user-friendly, which is essential in the construction world. Fantastic staff with great results up to this point. We are excited about our official launch and building on our partnership. It is as if the software can read our minds,” says Joshua D. Roberts, Owner and Managing Director at Earth Pipeline Services.

“We’re excited to expand operations further into the United States while also maintaining a large presence in Alberta. The signing of all three of these companies demonstrates our high level of commitment to an excellent product as well as our dedication to provide the highest level of support,” says Abbas Sarraf, Co-Founder and Head of Product at Aimsio.

Aimsio is also excited to announce that two more clients, Whitewater Management and Paradox Access Solutions both have Aimsio services launching this month. Both Whitewater Management and Paradox Access Solutions are Alberta-based organizations.

“With help from the amazing team at Aimsio, Paradox is extremely excited to embark on our new digital journey with our all-encompassing, client facing, paperless system,” says Cameron French, CFO at Paradox Access Solutions.

Aimsio plans to hire in both Calgary and Vancouver in 2018 and look forward to expanding their reach in the North American market.

About Aimsio

Aimsio provides a software platform that allows companies with field operations to easily manage their crew, equipment, and projects in the field. Aimsio helps field service companies painlessly transition from antiquated processes and manual paperwork to a streamlined system, where all their operational data is accessible on the cloud. This empowers companies to be proactive (not reactive) and gain control of their field operations.
